CONTRIBUTIONS

COO & Language Scientist

HERE AND NOW AI – Artificial Intelligence Research Institute

June 2018 – ongoing

AI-Enhanced Language Teaching: Utilizing advanced AI tools, such as GPTs, Gemini, BonPatron, & Lingvist, to personalize French language instruction. These tools, combined with HERE AND NOW’s proprietary systems, create personalized learning paths based on student progress. This approach increased student engagement by 35% and reduced learning time by 20%, setting a new benchmark for adaptive and immersive language education.

Innovative Language Acquisition Techniques: Incorporating linguistic expertise with AI tools like Speechling and Quizlet, alongside HERE AND NOW-developed systems, to innovate teaching methods. Research on language acquisition, supported by AI, led to the creation of new, tailored teaching models that now drive personalized learning for students.

AI Tools for Translation and Linguistic Applications: Skilled in leveraging open-source machine translation tools such as Apertium, Moses, and OpenNMT, in conjunction with commercial AI tools like DeepL and Google Translate. These technologies have improved the efficiency and accuracy of translating legal, commercial, medical, and financial documents. Specialized in translating insurance projects, police reports, and manuscripts in both French and Spanish, enhancing precision and contextual relevance.

AI-Driven Educational Content: Employing AI-powered content creation platforms like Edpuzzle and Pear Deck to develop interactive, real-time adaptive exercises that respond to individual learning progress. This approach to content creation has made learning experiences more engaging and resulted in higher retention rates across diverse student demographics.

Empowering Educators with Technology: Training over 1000 French educators in the use of AI tools for language teaching, such as Google Classroom, Kahoot!, and Slack, to enhance classroom interactivity and teaching effectiveness. This initiative increased teacher productivity by 50% and fostered a more innovative learning environment.

Director & Curriculum Designer

HERE AND NOW – The Language Institute

February 2016 – ongoing

Business Development and Growth: Spearheading the expansion of HERE AND NOW from a niche language institute to a nationally recognized leader in French education, with 300% growth in student enrollment. Targeting Canadian immigration aspirants, university students, and corporate clients, including Saint-Gobain, with tailored French programs that address specific professional and academic needs.

Innovative Marketing Strategies: Pioneering data-driven marketing strategies, integrating AI tools like HubSpot CRM and Google Analytics to segment audiences, optimize advertising spend, and personalize campaigns. Successfully reducing marketing costs by 60% while increasing return on investment. These innovations led to improved lead acquisition and a substantial 200% increase in revenue over three years.

Sales Increase Through Leadership: Establishing a high-performance sales team through incentive-based training, leading to a 40% improvement in team productivity and 25% reduction in turnover. Resulting in a 200% revenue increase over three years by implementing cutting-edge sales strategies and customer engagement models.

Curriculum Creation and Pedagogy Innovation: Designing curricula for diverse educational boards like IB, IGCSE, CBSE, and State Boards for schools and colleges, including Saveetha Group and Tagore Group. Corporate clients such as Saint-Gobain benefit from tailored French programs for employees preparing for international exams like DELF, DALF, TEF, IELTS, and more. Development of programs like the IMMERSION PROGRAM (A1-B2) and TEF COMPASS, contributing to over 5,000 fluent French speakers and training more than 1,000 French teachers.
